

BIOGRAPHY

Modifi is a Sydney based producer, dj and performer with a unique sound fusing twin sonic passions: electronic music and the didjeridoo.

First inspired by electronic music in the 90s, Modifi started out with a set of decks as a vinyl dj, developing a taste for the sound of the underground. In 2003, he moved on to the computer and into production, loving the creative freedom of writing his own tracks.

His decade long passion for the didjeridoo began when he moved to Central Australia in the late 90s and was inspired by hearing the instrument played like never before. He honed his didj skills during his time in the Northern Territory, learning not only to play but also the symbolic history of the didjeridoo, travelling to Arnhem Land to spend time with the didjeridoo's traditional custodians. He also spent a number of years as didj player with renowned Australian live dance band, 'Loonaloop'. During this time, he played at some of the world's biggest festivals, including Glastonbury (UK), Love Planet (CZ) and the Big Day Out (Aus).

Modifi was born when he combined his love for electronic music production with his passion for live didjeridoo performance. Today, Modifi's electrifying live act combines original driving techno beats with cheeky edits of some of the chunkiest tracks around, creating an atmosphere of rolling bass lines and energetic grooves. This is overlaid with the raw sound of didjeridoo, performed live with rhythm and punch, giving his act a unique energy that has got the crowd moving at some of the biggest festivals in Australia, including Illumination in Cairns, Peat's Ridge Festival and a slew of underground bush parties up and down Australia's East Coast.
